

ELT Workshop at Amity International School, Noida on 25 June 2018

A Brief Report

As a part of our relationship building exercise with the schools in India, a number of workshops were organized in 2018 across India. The three-day workshop organized at Amity International Schools, beginning on 25 June 2018 was a roaring success.

Profile of Resource Person: Ms Geetha Nagraj is an ELT exponent and author of our Wonderful Words series. She has taught in some reputed schools in Delhi and Bangalore for over 10 years and has spent more than 20 years in training teachers in English language. A certified Cambridge examiner, she has published books for Oxford University Press, Orient Longman, Cambridge University Press, Macmillan and Addison Wesley Longman and has taught English at different levels: school, undergraduate as well as teachers/trainers.

The following topics were dealt with during the workshop:

- Classroom Teaching Presentation, Practice and Production
- Learning Styles: Multiple Intelligence
- Development and enhancement of speaking and listening skills

Outcome: The participants got to learn about a number of interesting activities that they could conduct in classrooms to make learning more effective. The teachers found the workshop interesting, innovative and interactive. They were happy that most of their expectations from the workshop were met. AIS teachers requested for more such workshops and listed out the topics that they would like the resource person to focus on.
